Bulgarian Journal of Agricultural Science (BJAS)[®]

From 2010 the journal assumes Impact Factor

BJAS is a scientific journal published by the Agricultural Academy in Bulgaria with Editor-in-Chief Acad. Atanas Atanassov and Deputy Editor-in-Chief Iliana Nikolova. The journal includes 6 issues per year.

Scope

The Journal covers basic and applied researches in field of agriculture including Crop Science, Horticultural Science, Animal Science, Genetics, Physiology, Biotechnology, Agricultural Engineering, Agricultural Economy, Food Processing, Veterinary Medicine and other natural sciences connected with agriculture and articles in the field of Sustainable agriculture, Environmental protection and Earth Sciences. The Journal publishes full-length paper, short communications and reviews. Papers may originate from Bulgaria and other countries.

Research papers. All work presented should have as aim the development of agriculture concepts rather than the mere recording of facts. Preliminary, confirmatory or inconclusive work will not be published. Fragmentation of research into the "least publishable unit" is discouraged.

Short communications will be published. Reviews will be considered for publication. Prospective writers of reviews should first consult the Editor-in-chief and should enclose a short summary of the area they propose to cover.

Procedure for submission

Before preparing papers for journal authors should lead through Guide for Author*, published in first issue in each volume (year) and to consult a current issue to make themselves familiar with the general format.

Authors should submit disk of revised articles to the editorial office. We prefer Microsoft Word for Windows.

All papers must be written in neat and concise English. Editorial secretariat is accepting paper in Bulgarian language, but authors should pay for translation into English.

Contributions should be sent in two copies plus disk to the following address:
